

A DONATION WITH A BYTE

Staff and volunteers in the holistic cancer care centre have taken delivery of new computer and all the accessories - thanks to the generosity of the freemasons.

Acklam Lodge in Middlesbrough put forward an application to the Provincial Grand Charity of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Yorkshire, North and East Ridings, to help out the charity at The James Cook University Hospital.

The result was a donation of £1,200 worth of equipment to help with the day-to-day running of the charity.

Master of Acklam Lodge Ben Doree said: "We hope the centre gets good use out of the computer for many years to come and we will endeavour to raise money for the charity again in the future."

Centre manager Sue Stephenson added: "It's wonderful and something we desperately needed – my computer was certainly past its sell-by date! The Masons have bought the complete works for the centre and we're really grateful for their generosity."
